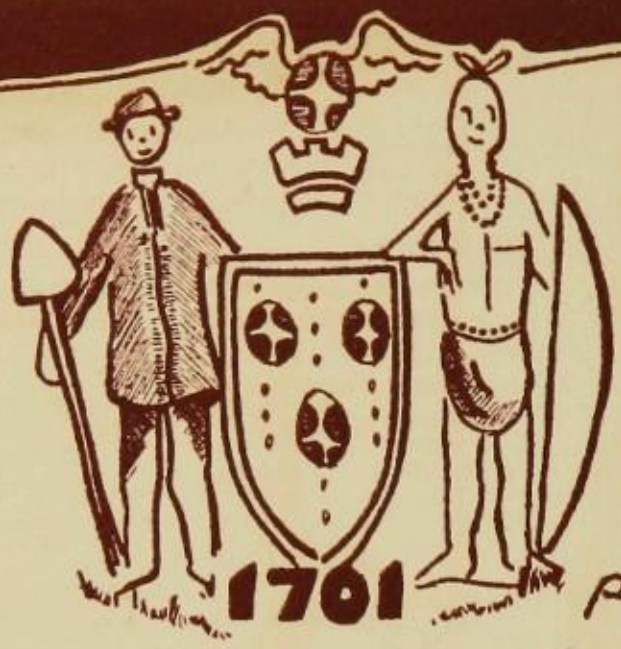
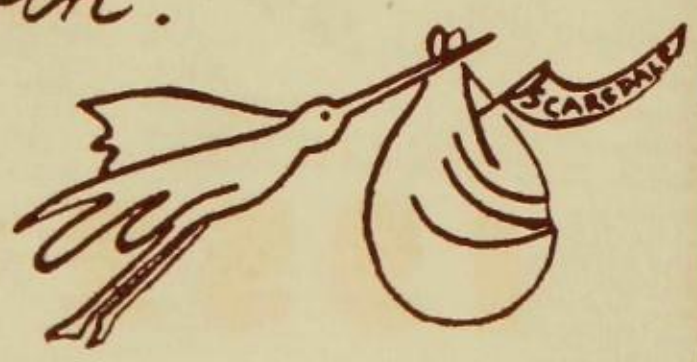
JABBERSNATCH



By and by people came.

Once upon a time Caleb Heathcote's land the manor of SCARSDALE was wild and uninhibited.

Battles were fought and when the dust cleared, a new town was born.



A village developed.

As the country grew, Scarsdale grew. The need arose for education.

Schools were built. Today Scarsdale's students are outstanding the school forms the center of most teen-age activities. Saturdays are filled with recreation.

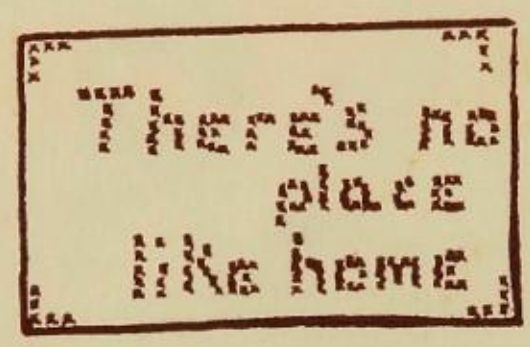
Yet some favorite spots are found in bordering communities. However " mid pleasures and palaces



And so before it grows any larger we leave this book as a portrait of Scarsdale

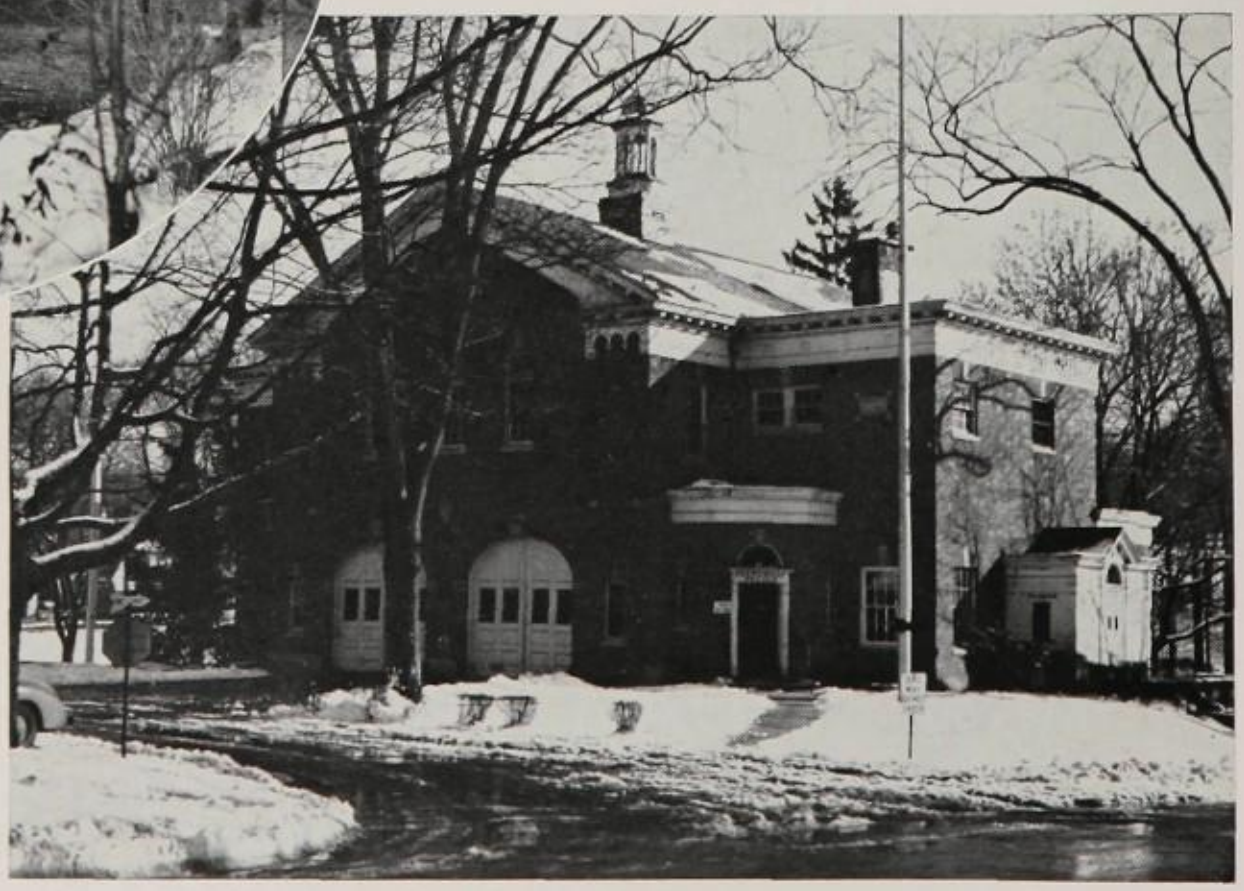
FOREWORD

"Life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday." We know that the Scarsdale we have loved will change as the years pass. A new era will broaden our concepts into world-consciousness, even as our modern buildings and super-markets will be replaced by the ultra-modern buildings and super-super-markets of the new generation.

But must we forget the Scarsdale from which we optimistically embarked upon a new adventure? Must we forget the town that gave us schools that we can always remember with pride? Must we forget the cop on the corner, the lovely residential streets covered with clean white snow, the daily rush in the morning to put tardy fathers on early trains, the last minute jaunt to the Post Office to mail that special letter, the annual caroling on the Village Green, the daily social gatherings in one of our favorite haunts? No, we needn't forget these things; we, the Class of 1952, will carry these memories with us in our Bandy.



DEDICATION

To him who at all times commands our respect and admiration . . .

To him who is the very essence of dignity and integrity . . .

To him who has so many important things on his mind, but calls us all by name . . .

To him from whom we receive letters of commendation for something well done . . .

To him with whom we identify explosive laughter and extemporaneous speeches . . .

To him who is the familiar figure on the stage, hands in pockets—the man on the football field, upturned collar and hat over eyes . . .

To him who can always find time to give us the wisdom of his experience . . .

To him who has brought us the spirit of the free countries of the world with his "Crusade for Freedom". . .

To him whose presidency of the Middle Atlantic Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has brought distinction to us and to himself . . .

To him whom we know not merely as our principal—such a cold-sounding title —but as an individual, a man, a friend . . .

To him who is Scarsdale's "Man of the Year". . .

Because we think there's no one finer . . .

TO MR. NELSON

we dedicate our '52 Bandy

STRICTLY SENIORS

ALMOST before we realized we were seniors, we found ourselves at Jones Beach on our first class outing, October 5th, where we were initiated into the world of sandy sandwiches, Jones Beach policemen, and human pyramids. On the way home, many a complaint was heard about aching backs, most of them from sunburn, but a few from being twisted in blanket tossing. The success of this jaunt started the ball of "Esprit de Corps" rolling, which made an even bigger and better success of the breakfast on the 15th. Upholding the tradition that reading a newspaper at breakfast starts the day off right, Maroon, and especially Joel, provided a chance for us all to get our pictures "in" by means of a pictorial issue. The only thing that could make us put our papers down was the entertainment, featuring Mr. Dunn's clever ad-libbing and music by Mr. Powell, J. Fred Koots, and Mr. Ball. At last, the secret recipe for a successful senior breakfast was revealed: good entertainment plus good food, and, most of all, a wonderful senior class.

Not one, but two Santas, greeted us at the next senior breakfast on the 14th of December. Amidst the Christmas carols and band music supplied by the class, a sleigh full of presents for favorites and Withers and Reid, no longer feuding but extolling Yuletide spirit, was drawn by faculty reindeer.

A few months later, less exposed to the elements than at our last outing, we set out for a full day of the three S's: skiing, skating, and sliding on our seats. The season of "I love you truly" seized us at the senior breakfast on February 15th, when '52's "Postmaster General" made us all feel popular with our own special Valentine cards. Then we settled down to work until That Day, May 23rd, also known as Class Day, when we met for our last and definitely best senior breakfast.

Although often reminded that these get-togethers were only senior "recognitions" and definitely not senior privileges, we realized how really privileged we were to be allowed such recognition.

JUNIOR

HELLO, Honey! This is Farmer Horton speaking from the bleachers of North Field as I proudly survey my protégés on the gridiron, including E. Whitehair, P. Clavel, D. Smith, and D. Reilly, through Mr. Whitehair's binoculars. Those around me join in a mighty cheer led by D. Crimmins, N. Meredith, A. Chamberlin, and C. Miller.

My binoculars swing over to Butler Field, where the juniors are smashing all track records with B. McEwen, L. Cleveland, B. Harris, B. Walsh, A. Saunders, D. Hoeltzel, and R. Hagemeyer. A. Chamberlin was chosen a member of the Stuyvesant Hockey Team, adding to the fame that G. Fenbert brought home by winning another championship at the National Horse Show. . . . Wiping off my steamy lenses, I can see S. Lang, D. Smith, and W. Johnson piling up points for the basketball team . . . T. Stettaford and B. McAndrew claim the spotlight as "Messiah" soloists, while S. Holmes,

CLASS

O. Dean, J. Jones, D. Johnson, and J. Wofford take part in "Elizabeth the Queen." . . . I can see M. Berniker and M. Steele, along with J. Wofford and P. Gott, ably handling the job of social doings. Outside school no social committee is needed; the familiar cry is "Let's go to the Jordans'," or "Open house at the Holzers'."

Focusing my binoculars on the future, I perceive someone at a Class of '53 reunion recalling J. Krippel's matchcovers, the "gone" expression on the faces of L. Work, M. Ball, B. Riess, and M. Berniker at the mention of "Birdland," the grand prize award given N. Walter after the Hallowe'en Window Painting Contest, and B. Sproull's raccoon coat. . . . I adjust my long-range lenses in time to see the girls pile into the "Austin," the "Bomb," and Ettinger's car and scratch off for Bronxville. Bronxville? Where's that?

SOPHOMORE

AH—in Senior High at last! As the doors opened in September, the sophomores pushed through and were soon enveloped in a whirl of social activities. However, at the beginning of the year, everybody decided to settle down and work hard, as college loomed nearer and marks became more important.

Cheerleaders M. Hickerson and S. Streepey limbered up to lead many yells for grid stars, P. Perrine, M. Donner, B. Dewey, B. Stompe, B. Waldron, J. Dennis and P. Winthrop. Meanwhile, the Hockey Honor Squad practiced shooting for goals with the aid of sophomores, S. Manée, M. Tucker, M. Hickerson, D. Lockhart, and G. Stein. Helping to plan the eventful "Play Days" were G. A. A. delegates, E. Buchman, S. Manée, G. Stein, and M. Hickerson. Cross country honors went to B. Stallman who won first place in the county meet and topped the school record.

When nothing particular was happening on the social scene, there were always "hen parties" to fill in the gap. While many avidly watched the Martin and Lewis show, the chant and bang of "lemmee sticks" could be heard in the background. Sometimes these affairs turned into "mixed gatherings" before the night was over.

Dribbling around the basketball court were B. Kingsbury, B. Stompe, B. Dewey, M. Donner, J. Dennis, B. Waldron, H. Libowitz, and J. Sandri, who exhibited their skill at fancy lay-ups and snappy pivots. The girls lent support to the team by trying to attend all the games and exercising their vocal chords in cheers. In the Saturday basketball league the Tenth Grade was well represented and did nobly under the keen competition.

The junior boys didn't take long to notice the Tenth Grade girls, and a number of lucky lassies soon had their chauffeuring problems under control. Quite a few sophomores were behind the wheel themselves, waving their cherished licenses.

Altogether the year was an exciting one for the sophs. Then, their encounters with geometric proofs, unfortunate frogs, and the formidable Regents trials safely over, they eagerly awaited the time when they could say, "We're juniors."

MEMBERS of the Class of '55 contend that Scarsdale High never enjoyed renown until they entered the institution in the fall of 1949 and were led astray by the erroneous advice of upper classmen. But it was evident, indeed, that this was their most successful year thus far. The boys (most of them, anyway) finally realized that girls existed. However, there were also other indications of things to come . . . C. Winegar, our football hero . . . the stirring performances of D. Foreman, B. Flint,

'52 IN REVIEW

"COME what may, time and the hour run through the roughest day." Though it's a long, long time from June to September, when September finally arrived, it just didn't seem long enough. Back to teachers, back to books, homework and detention halls—all with a new twist. After eleven or more years, we'd finally made it. We were those omniscient, omnipotent creatures affectionately called seniors.

Pushing our way through the throngs of program-card comparers, we found old Scarsdale had a new look. S. H. S. had lost its S. S. H., and in its place we had Blue and Green Rooms to rival those in the White House. As clubs and sports reopened, we felt as though we'd never left school, except, of course, when we tried in vain to find Room 254.

"The labor (they) delight in physics pain." Soon football hopefuls crowded Butler Field to do some mass setting-up exercises, run, and make mad leaps at immobile, sawdust-stuffed tackles. With a jump and a yell, cheerleaders began their practice also. How to tell a cheerleader from the rest of the school? Watch one trying to tackle a staircase or bending to pick up her books.

"The bell invites (us)." The familiar record repeating the words, "There is no danger," finally wore out. During the first fire drill, we walked to music that kept changing from a march to a lullaby.

"Collegiate, collegiate, yes, we are collegiate." A white bucks fad suddenly descended upon us, and all the boys bought the collegiate trade-mark a year early to get them dirty enough for college.

Finally with the so-much-home-work-the-first-week blues, we all descended on Nat's for the first gala party of the season.

"He who steals my purse, steals trash" is the most appropriate quotation for September in Scarsdale High. What with the G. O. Drive, Bandy down payments, and senior pictures, there wasn't much left in our pockets to pick. Mr. "Chesty" McFeely and Pete Arons showed their mystical talents by opening the G. O. Drive with a comical magic show that did everything but put the $2.50 into our wallets to pay for membership.

"Très bien, la plus meilleure!" is an understatement when applied to the "American in Paris" Bandy Assembly produced by Kitty and Barb with nimble-footed Ellen, voiceless Joel Kay(tes), ad-libber Pete, and as per usual, the Musketeers. But the best salesmen of all were Papa Jean's chorus line who kicked their way into our hearts.

"Watch the birdie . . ." and if you can't find a bird to watch, then at least try to look as if you can see something under all those floodlights. That's right, senior pictures. Those immortal photographs taken just for Bandy's Rogues' Gallery!

Maroon made its debut into Scarsdale's society under the watchful eye of Editor Phil, making itself outstanding from the start by producing a wonderful issue only a week after school started.

Talk about inflation—while prices soared, waist-lines dwindled as the senior girls suffered through lunches of hard-boiled eggs, cheese, and apples.

With the first class meeting we really got a taste of being seniors and with the outing that weekend, we got a whole mouthful. At least we had the dubious honor of being the first senior class to have had the company of the state troopers at our outing. That night the comment, "I'm bushed," kept running through conversations between red-faced seniors trying hard to stay awake at Murph's house party.

"Double, double, toil and trouble," the midnight oil burns, and tempers bubble. Yes, source theme time had come, and the libraries were filled with some seniors madly trying to copy whole books on 4 x 6 cards, and others silently thinking of excuses for extensions or developing slight tonsilitis.

"Methinks I hear a voice cry (work) no more." The World Series became almost as great a work-stopper as a union strike. Who could think of a theme for Bandy or figure out a trig problem when the Giants were beating the Dodgers?

A student-sponsored pep rally in the bleachers sent the team off to the opening game of the season with enough pep to beat Peekskill 52-0. We all came home hoarse that night from singing "When Scarsdale's Red and White men fall in line" only to rush out to the first all senior open-house at Ann Day's.

Chief Sun Rise of the Sioux Indians, alias Ruben Jones, was the main attraction at the quietest assembly of the year when he spoke to us in Indian sign language.

One, two, three, kick. September ended with a surprise when fourteen girls from Ginny's slumber party crashed the dance at Bill's in the craziest conga line ever to shake through Scarsdale.

"Something is rotten in the state of Denmark," but one thing's sure, it wasn't the entertainment at the senior breakfast. With proud sons, Eddie and Dick, looking on, Mr. Dunn and Mr. Powell, along with an eleventh grade parental representative, Mr. Ball, made the thirty minutes seem like three.

That afternoon came the pep rally in which we all formed a part of the act by sitting on the stage and making more noise than the rest of the school put together, and then off we went to a football victory over Pelham.

Tables outside the cafeteria in the lobby reminded us of a basic necessity of life other than eating; that is, the freedom we enjoy and are trying to spread to other countries through the Crusade for Freedom and its numerous sign-up scrolls.

After two wonderfully long three-day weekends chuck full of parties and trips, it was hard to get into the swing of Fridays at school.

Rain, rain, go away, come again when we don't have a game. The Rye game was rained out, and we had to wait a whole day for that exhilarating feeling of victory. That week, Al and Bill made human dummies for Pinkie's explanation of football plays on the Stan Lomax TV program.

"Out, damned spot, out." Before we realized it, the contract came to an end, and with it came the annual follow-up, the P. T. A. Open House. We began to look haggard from doing homework, and everyone seemed to be saying, "and we'll not fail."

"But soft, methinks I smell the morning air" between the whiffs of hideous smelling gases permeating the halls near the chemistry labs.

"On Borrowed Time" not only meant the way we got our homework done, but it was also the Woman's Club play with Mr. Withers, Mr. Myers, and Mr. Nelson showing tendencies toward a two-sided personality.

"Look like the innocent flower, but be the serpent under't" was reversed when all Scarsdale's innocent flowers dressed like serpents, witches, or devils to welcome in the new month of November. No pheasants under glass, but a great many pictures on glass also appeared throughout the village when window painters got to work decorating village shops.

Our toughest competitors, Brewster, added another victory to those over Pelham and Eastchester and proved Scarsdale to be worth a write-up in the New York papers which lavished praises on the team for its outstanding record.

Proclaiming the right of women's suffrage, the girls showed their independence before Election Day by the vice-versa at Denise Crimmins' which, along with a cozy fireside dance at Geno's, occupied the weekends before the climax of the football season—the Bronxville game. The day started with a downpour which kept alternating with the sun until just before the pep rally the question of the day was "When shall we meet, in thunder, lightning, or in rain?" We finally completed our third undefeated season in a fog so thick that the seniors in their own bleacher section could hardly find the captains, Ken and Pete, on the football field. Shoulders were bared and ankles covered, tux were decamphorized and fitted for the dance that evening, which ended with pizza at Papa John's or singing at Maxl's.

"This was the noblest (player) of them all." Joe really reaped honors by not only being elected co-captain of the year with Billy, but also being chosen for the all-county team, and no less than first string. In fact, all our fall sports were a good demonstration of Scarsdale's athletic prowess with the cross-country team rounding the last corner of the last meet undefeated, and Barry Stallman setting a record for quick limbs. Even the girls' hockey team beat Bronxville for the first time. Then suddenly Mr. Nelson produced a pin to burst our inflated moods when he told us that Bronxville would no longer be our main football rival, for Scarsdale, like us, was almost ready for graduation—from a class B to A team.

Herman ("Fuzzy around the edges") Hickman brought a great deal of entertainment to us when he left New Haven to be an added attraction for our football sports award assembly.

"Standing room only" was the cry when Scarsdale ushered in Thanksgiving vacation with a movie party at Robin Head's.

"The play's the thing. Wherein I'll catch the conscience of the (queen)." Friday and Saturday most of us spent either behind, in front of, or on the stage in the fall production, Elizabeth the Queen. Red-wigged Ann made Ethel Barrymore look like an amateur, while goateed Bill outdid all of Sir Lancelot's gallant chivalry.

Contract week again, and again talk of college made spirits low, in fact, so low that there were no parties the next weekend, and bowling and movies claimed our evenings.

Santa Witherclaus and Mrs. Reid-a-claus arrived at school just in time to give favorites their presents at the senior breakfast.

"And Amen stuck in my throat." A magnifcent merger of the orchestra and choruses put an end to the small red caps and sore throats that had become a topic of conversation. The week ended and . . .

'Twas the day before vacation when all through the school, cider and punch were being served in homerooms and at the Maroon party; Mr. Geer was busy making out personality quizzes, while Sally Holmes, the "Littlest Angel," and the rest of the Dance Club presented an impressive assembly that put us in a Christmasy mood.

White Plains became almost a social event in itself, for everyone was busy buying grease to make Santa's ride down the chimney a little easier, and looking for a size 20 stocking. Then it seemed as though almost before we opened our presents, vacation was over. The beginning of the year whose numerals our class had adopted was divided between the Wood's spacious house, a dance for thirty that turned into sixty at Howie's, and still another at the Beatties'.

Our few mornings-in-bed-till-noon ended, and we returned to the old grind only to be greeted by regents reviews, college boards, and source theme marks. However, basketball provided a diversion from our mad attempts to raise grades before colleges started picking and choosing.

Paul, Elsa, Joel, Lana, and the two Ellens dropped out of the sky on to a hillbilly stage at the end of January to display their various talents.

"The time is out of joint." Suddenly it hit us, as we were being fitted for those costumes that are intended to make us look learned and intellectual on graduation night—The Fatal Day Wasn't So Far Off.

In accordance with our decision for the man of the year, the Scarsdale Bowl Committee honored Mr. Nelson with their annual presentation.

Ned's creation, "Hail, Scarsdale, Hail" rivaled "Sin" in being number one on Scarsdale's hit parade, and we finally had an alma mater.

Three raps on the gavel and Al called the annual open G. O. meeting to order. Phil stole the show, when in the middle of his plea for funds, he suddenly found himself blocked by the curtain—the velvet curtain.

The subway and just plain shoe leather was the transportation used by the literary among us who went to Columbia for the press conference to see Bandy and Maroon, as it was when les étudiants français also went on their outing of the year.

The incomparable Skip entertained us with his version of "Cocaine Bill" at Chuck's party that weekend.

Imitating the ostrich by burying our heads in the snow, we spent Saturday at Bear Mountain vainly attempting to ski right side up. And for those who couldn't ski or skate, there were always snowball fights and snowmen.

"Turnabout is fair play" quoth many a female when she swallowed her pride and asked the man of her dreams to the vice-versa masquerade at school that weekend.

Happy to have some snow after three months of winter, we willingly trudged through the drifts to the Band Concert on Sunday, when the versatile entertainers sang a chorus, imitated dogs, and also played instruments.

Thanks to two of our famous presidents, we received several days of rest during the month of February, and then with the scared cries of escaping boys, the season of female paradise, leap year, ended; and in blew March.

"Eye of newt, and toe of frog, wool of bat and . . ." Skin of Our Teeth. A history course from the dinosaur to the machine age in two hours described our spring play with Sally, Eddie, Charlotte, and Janet alternating between wolf and telephone calls. For the first time, a student and a '52er in the person of Ann A. directed it.

A fashion feud started and we appeared in as sloppy an outfit as we could find, girls in sneakers and boys in vests.

"Dwindle, peak, and pine." More college boards came and went, and we were practically gone when they were over.

The juniors seemed all ready to push us out and take over the proud title of seniors. They elected officers at their first class meeting, and campaigns began for G. O. prexy.

Photos by Gillis, Kolar, Nooney, Zolotorofe.

"Whan that Aprille with his shoures soote" arrived, it carried on its back the completely metamorphosed alumni with crew cuts, white bucks, and horned-rimmed glasses back for Easter vacation. The baseball team spent long hours practicing home runs, while those with musical talents rehearsed indoors for the great event of the year. With vocal cords vibrating and knees shaking, the "Chimes of Normandy" was presented as the senior operetta soon after we got back to school.

"To be or not to be, that is the question." A letter had never meant so much to us before as it did the day of May 15th when acceptances (and rejections) were due from colleges.

"T" not only stood for "taste and throat," but also meant tennis and track, and many a warm, breezy spring afternoon was spent amongst the choking fumes from bottles of liniment at Butler Field. That was why the setting of moonlight and roses at the spring prom did more for young men's fancies than any beautiful day ever accomplished.

Jones Beach suddenly became our "Place in the Sun," and every weekend carloads of seniors flounced out to bake and blister on the hot white sand. When the whole class came to school looking like lobsters, it was evident that there had been another senior outing.

June arrived, and it was no more. We were about to set foot into the big, black, terrible world. Class Day made a hilarious break just before the long grind for regents.

Then we were tripping over white gowns, shaking hands with the wrong hand, and rushing off to dance and cry all night. Night turned into another day, and with the rise of the sun it dawned on us that we were no longer all knowing, cocky seniors but almost lost, ignorant freshmen.

"That it should come to this end."

IN THE DEMOCRATIC WAY

AFTER a springtime campaign assembly with Maharajah Moore, Bill's Day Nursery, the bug-lights in the dark, and Bourke's new twist to old songs, Allan was once again given top honors. Right along with him at the head of the group were Bill B. as second man, Ginny as minute-taker, and Don as book-balancer. Allan made it clear from the first that all meetings were to be conducted under the strictest parliamentary procedure as order was all important, for we had much to attend to. Consequently, Tim was appointed as Constitution chairman to see that Robert's Rules were followed, and then two new amendments were ratified correctly. Bill Greenawalt's Citizenship Committee initiated an explanatory "Crusade for Freedom" assembly while Billy, our smiling Irishman, filled the year with interesting and varied assemblies. Dick, as head of a "keep-our-cafeteria-clean" campaign; Babs, as our social-planner adding new impetus to our Friday night festivities; and Judy, promoter and supervisor of all activities, were also invaluable to the school and Council. Some of the new changes brought about this year included Season Tickets, cokes and a commentator for home basketball games, new band uniforms, further work on the honor system, and, most revolutionary of all, an open meeting of the Council in assembly which strengthened the bond between the school and its G. O. A few sidelights of the year were the high pressure sales talks to homeroom representatives for the Bronxville Dance, the "versatile quality" of Al's voice, and the surprise Christmas party which found the members in 255 enjoying cokes and carols. However, the year could never have run so smoothly without the reassuring presence of Mr. Beveridge, who always found answers for our most challenging problems.

STANDARD BEARERS

THE strains that rose from the orchestra pit this year, Tuesdays at lunchtime, were hardly those of Chopin or Brahms, but they were momentous none the less. Having no other place to meet, Signifer members found themselves entering "the pit," lunch in hand, to attend to business, of which there was plenty. First things come first, we held our elections with Jim taking top honors and Don right at his heels making a close second. Mary-Lynn was chosen as our secretary and had us bewildered time and again by her continual usage of last week's vocabulary words in the minutes.

Amid the rustle of bags and the clatter of falling trays, Mr. Melchoir brought up the day's pressing problems. First, Esther, Frank, Elsa, and Stephen G., under Miss Dyer's guiding hand, began the long-talked-of project of presenting the school in handbook form to start the bewildered newcomer off "in the right direction." Then as the first step in joining the National Honor Society, the "ancient" constitution was brought out of mothballs and revised by a Constitution Committee of Mimmie, Bob B. and Bill M. Upon inquiry, any busy individual seen walking through the halls this year with handfuls of messages to be delivered would admit that he was one of the office "gang" who had given up his free time to aid the common cause. Then, too, the group was asked to help the newcomers get acquainted with the why's and wherefore's of the school.

In January the forty incoming Juniors increased the "esprit de corps" in adding their "youth" to the group of old timers, and so together the "sign-bearers" carried on the tradition of service and leadership.

EXPECTATIONS FUL-PHIL'D

WITH the dust of summer still on our shoes, the heads of staff assembled for their first meeting. Then, the revolution! Mr. Myers, with his new moustache, gave his indispensable advice, as new paper, printer, and publication date were chosen. Progressive editor, Phil, mapped the strategy for the first and subsequent issues. This launched his and Ward's frantic midnight trips to the printer and the inimitable luncheon meetings in 142. While Bobs, Browne and Halper, filled the news pages, Esther kept the Spotlights focused, Betty L. managed and Janet "co-ordinated" the largest staff in Maroon history. Kittenplan continued his Komments, and Jack established his excellent new business policy. The sub-editors emerged, eagerly awaiting next fall; while their predecessors, leaving 19 Maroons as a monument to their efforts, went on to seek higher planes.

BOOK MAKERS

"BANDY'S for you in '52." That was our motto, and we smiled as we said it, but oh, the blood, sweat, and tears behind the scenes! Despite this, the success of our first public appearance was obvious. The 300 Bandys Ginny and Mike sold that first day were an overwhelming tribute to Kitty's and Barbara's able direction, and kept Ricky and Frank busy balancing books. Janet and Jane, in charge of "script," were occupied reading Babs' and Ecky's sports and looking for Mimmie's and Betty's clubs, while Mary-Lynn and Judy found that "managing" had a broader meaning than they had thought. Heaping qualified praise on all the "cast," we called forth Mrs. Schumann and Lynne to take their well-deserved curtain calls—and thus our Bandy was presented.

Silence, Please

THOUSANDS of new study halls, "skeenteen" classes of seniors struggling through the pages of The Reader's Guide for source themes, plus the usual overdue fines were only a few of the problems which faced the Library Staff this year. With Miss Barrows, their new adviser, Ann as president, and Marian and Barbara assisting, the library served as a haven for relaxed reading or a beehive for reference work, thanks to the behind-the-shelves work of these junior librarians.

The Big Debate

"BUT I don't quite agree with your last statement . . .!" Although Forum is not technically a debating society, the spirit that prevailed this year came close to approaching it. The members, under Connie's leadership, lacked neither eloquence nor varied opinions. While Miss Connor attempted to keep arguments centered on the proposed topic, Betty, in desperation, found her minutes growing briefer as the year's discussions continued. Thus the largest Forum group in years kept up with the ever-changing scene!

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

First row: E. Friedman, E. Price, B. Shuwall, M. Donovan, S. Lowenthal, S. Holmes, P. Arons, Vice-President; N. Collister, M. Emery, K. Kursell, V. Hirshberg, S. Kahn. Second row: E. Dunn, O. Dean, A. Ward, W. Greenawalt, President; A. Austin, Secretary; J. Kates, J. Wofford, D. Hart, J. Lawson, Mr. Hemmerly, Adviser. Hermit: J. Rollins.

Studio One

THIS was the year when the wealth of talent at hand made possible such a difficult feat as the production of Anderson's "Elizabeth the Queen." Ann's and Bill's performances lent an incredible brilliance to those classical characters, along with Pete, "jester of all times." Equally ambitious was "The Skin of Our Teeth," the spring play. Sally, as Sabina; Eddie, as Mr. Antrobus; and Charlotte, as his wife, upheld the increasing reputation of the group. As usual, the quality of the supporting casts, both on and behind the stage, under Mr. Hemmerly's superior direction, aided in the club's success.

Standing Room Only

THE men in the Box Office were unsung heroes until their picture appeared in Bandy this year. Continually they faced shouts of "What's taking so long? I have to buy my lunch," or "Four in the third row, center, please." Although three lunch shifts and season tickets involved much work, J. Seward and his staff, with Mr. Ross's help, kept SHS's "first nighters" satisfied.

BOX OFFICE MANAGERS

PRINTING CLUB

Sitting: G. Sweeton, R. Mark, Secretary; J. Silliman, President. Standing: P. Riesenkonig, P. Killenberg, R. Pegg, P. Rollhaus, W. Sutherland, Vice-President; D. Briggs, I. Sutherland, M. Miller, J. Kimball, Treasurer; Mr. Hanson, Adviser. Hermits: W. Spalding, G. Sawyer, J. Emery.

The Type We Like

ANYONE curious about where the Printing Club worked this year had only to ask Mr. Steele and he'd have told them about the clankety-clank right below him that ofttimes continued far into the evening. Jack, as head of the pressmen, with chief aids, Burt and Dick, managed to turn out programs for school affairs, the G. O. cards, Bandy tickets and sport schedules, along with an occasional outside job for the P. T. A. Mr. Hanson stood by always with help and advice throughout the year.

Power of the Purse

AFTER mapping out a sales campaign to capture White Plains and sections of Scarsdale, Stephen and Ned, twin-presidents of the Advertising Club, gave each eager member his own personal number of stores to cover. From their excursions resulted aching backs, burning feet and about thirty-one pages of Bandy ads plus the regular spreads in Maroon. At their meetings Mr. Crafts was always ready with answers to their problems in coping with stubborn shopkeepers when the situation arose.

ADVERTISING CLUB

Sitting: C. Van Zelm, Secretary; A. Crafts, Adviser; B. Rubin, J. Richter, B. Logcher, D. Block, A. Haas, M. Quarte, M. Rose, L. Valenstein. Second row: E. Kriegsman, President; S. Greenberg, President; F. Pratt, B. Merrell, N. Hancock, M. A. Irvine, M. C. Towe, D. Crews, N. Collister, S. Hurd, B. Wilson, M. Verrilli, E. Keck, R. Stranathan. Hermits: R. Halper, A. Katcher, R. Halpern, E. Weintraub, F. Ritter, E. Goodman, J. Degnan, L. Diner.

PUBLICITY

Sitting: A. Roberts, J. Samuelian, E. Friedman, President; A. Nichols, C. Mitchell. Standing: I. Strangio, M. Quarte, H. Heilbrunn, P. O'Brien, G. Kuhn, J. Reineke, M. E. Taylor, M. Tucker, D. Lockhart, Mr. Barnhart, Adviser; T. Howell, M. Miller. Hermits: G. Lyons, J. Lyman, Secretary; L. Lyman, E. Robertson, L. Shiller, V. Spohr, M. Zizzamia, R. Vonder Heide, R. Halpern, E. Weintraub, J. Richie, P. Gott.

Information, Please

POSTERS, posters everywhere! "And don't you dare rip them down!" was President Ellen's warning to the school, as approximately twenty artists feverishly worked to finish details on the final posters needed to herald the coming events! The Publicity Club, with Mr. Barnhart's sound advice always available, kept the halls decked with both color and the when's, where's and at-what-price's. After this, inevitably came the where-did-you-put-it session with Janet, as secretary, leading the expedition to clear the walls.

Deck the Halls

WHILE Caesar was crossing the Rubicon on the third floor, down by Room 151 somebody's plaid skirt hung as a model for all would-be homemakers. No matter what your interests were, you were bound to find a board on the subject. Although constant streams of "over that way, just a bit" occasionally forced Susie and her committee of thumb-tackers to give way to public opinion, the finished displays always showed them to be the creations of none but true "artists."

BULLETIN BOARD COMMITTEE

First row: M. Steele, W. Zonruiter, G. Tucker, A. Flint, President; Mr. Barnhart, Adviser. Second row: J. McAfee, M. Zizzamia, D. Miller-Jones, N. Dowrick, J. Sherwin, S. Berger, J. Rollins. Third row: D. Crews, H. Heilbrunn, G. Kuhn, J. Wasserman. Fourth row: G. Durland, A. Simon, N. Collister. Fifth row: M. Rose, B. Rubin, A. Tobler. Sixth row: N. Walter, C. de Lima, L. Seagle, N. Rodgers, C. Mussig, I. Strangio. Seventh row: Mr. Beckerman, Adviser; B. McAndrew, R. Currie, C. Mitchell, J. James, N. Hancock, K. Werner, J. Melius, M. Swanson. Hermits: R. Gibson, D. Austin, V. Spohr, G. Lyons, R. Vonder Heide, K. Bell, J. Lyman, L. Shiller, J. Apple.

RADIO CLUB

W. Hernstadt, Secretary-Treasurer; R. Russell, O. Stephens, E. Grunebaum, Vice-President; R. Stranathan, F. de Vallée; R. Browne, President; C. Skalski, D. Ernst, Mr. Clark, Adviser. Hermit: D. Metz.

Radio-Active

MESSAGES on the transmitter, loose wires and tubes, and much more went to make up the Radio Club, situated in SHS's broadcasting tower, Room 327C. With Mr. Clark always there to prevent the amateur Marconis from putting A. C. wires into D. C. sockets, the boys worked on the "dummy set," pored over complicated diagrams of hand-made sets, and strove toward their ultimate objective—a radio ham license.

Lunch Time 5 & 10

INFLATION, three lunch shifts, and Pierce and Shiller's competition loomed as threats to Scarsdale's own "store," but Bill M., Bob B., Bob H., and Conrad, aided by Mr. Jamison's financial knowledge, kept prices down and notebooks filled. From the youngest seventh grader to the weary senior rushing in to buy a cover for his source theme, everyone realized more than ever the great service these students offer SHS.

SCHOOL STORE

First row: R. Hosking, President; F. Rehberg, Secretary-Treasurer; W. McEwen, Vice-President. Customers: R. Currie, H. Hanwit. Hermit: W. Boos.

Stop, Look, and Listen

ALTHOUGH "Clear the way, I'm coming in, and I'm late" seemed to be the demand of many "hot-rodders" at first, the Traffic Squad soon created order out of the chaos. The "we-want-to-see-you-all-alive" attitude of the squad kept them out on the job in all sorts of weather, while Mr. Christy's careful planning prevented many a smashed headlight and scratched fender.

TRAFFIC SQUAD

Mr. Christie, Adviser; N. Penachio, G. Sawyer, H. Hanwit, K. Woolf, H. Soderstrom, S. Harris, F. Rehberg, R. Hoeltzel, G. Dexter, A. Peterson, D. Walrath. Hermit: R. Sawyer.

It's a Snap

ROOM 141 was a shutter-bug's heaven this year. Chuck's special duty was to see that everyone participated in meetings, while Dewey stood ready to fill in, and Skip handled the finances. Along with Mr. Shores, our new and invaluable adviser, came a new enlarger for the dark room. Consequently the biggest project, requiring little technique, was a mass house-cleaning to prepare the hide-out for this new addition.

CAMERA CLUB

First row: R. Logcher, R. Halper, A. Scharps, J. Andrews, C. Morris, President. Second row: J. Schur, D. Leavitt, R. Pegg, K. Harte, A. Throop, R. Hobermann, J. Valenstein, M. Wrangell. Standing: S. Rich, R. Klipstein, R. Morrison, E. Gluckman, O. Dean, W. Hernstadt, W. Reed, C. Skalski, R. Gregory, J. Citron, S. Bair, H. Kolar, J. Zolotorofe, Mr. Shores, Adviser; G. Gillis, Treasurer; R. Hoeltzel, Vice-President. Hermits: C. Mann, Secretary; R. Goldmuntz, R. Harris, A. Shapiro, H. Ladjevardi, C. Smith, R. Fischel, P. Abelson, D. Dannett, K. Harte.

PROJECTION CLUB

First row: G. James, J. Rivchin, A. Moritz, R. O'Connor, C. Mars, H. Weisman. Second row: Peter Cohen, F. Kleeman, President; E. Kriegsman, Treasurer; W. Borg, A. Goldberg, K. Evans, R. Logcher, P. Reiter, R. Gregory, A. Scharps. Third row: J. Leavitt, D. Schneider, R. Samuelian, R. Arias, M. Goldman, G. Wilson, D. Rosenfeld, J. Brouillette, P. Abelson, S. Lowenstein, E. Wingert, Mr. Clark, Adviser. Hermits: C. Freeman, P. Kernan, J. Klineberg, S. Klineberg, D. Smith, R. Schief, J. Citron, W. Drysdale, O. Dean, J. Harte, A. Kalker.

Reeling Around

"4, 3, 2, 1, 0 . . . Oops, backwards. Well, we're just learning how to run this machine." But when October came, things had changed, and we were well on the way to becoming expert in the art of showing movies—"The River" (again?). In directing these camera men, Frank, Alex, and Mr. Richard Clark did their best to provide efficient service. Sometimes "he" was a "she," for half the membership surprisingly belonged to the fairer sex.

What's in a Hat

HOKUS pokus and room 208 is changed into a stage with a new member magician performing each month and being criticized by the other prestidigitators. Always around to see that rabbits popped out of hats on schedule were John, Bill, and Mr. Tew, especially when their assembly loomed in the near future.

MAGICIANS' CLUB

First row: A. Moritz, G. James, A. Apgar. Second row: F. Farnham, Mr. Tew, Adviser; L. Kahn, A. Solomon, S. Bliss, W. Weisberger, B. Stallman, A. Throop, O. Dean, M. White, Secretary. Third row: K. Panthen, W. Spalding, Vice-President; J. Seward, President. Hermits: A. Myles, J. Rogers, J. Pickering.

SPANISH CLUB

First row: J. Lutton, B. Cook, E. Berlet, E. Best, L. Mitt, A. Henderson, T. Howell. Second row: J. Citron, J. Rutherford, M. J. Mahler, C. de Lima, Secretary; S. Olt, M. Chase. Third row: W. Dryden, P. Haczela, B. Harris, R. Gilheany, N. Hancock, F. Kleeman, President; Mrs. Munoz, Adviser; D. Winship, R. Currie, H. Kolar, J. McAfee, C. Woessner, P. Keane, E. Mac Dowell, W. Zonruiter, T. Quarrie, J. Eldson, E. Dunn, Vice-President. Hermits: J. Samuelian, B. Merrell, C. Van Zelm, F. Pratt, M. Clover, W. McEwen, N. Nobmann, J. Berlet, J. Holder, B. Logcher, A. Jackson, M. Tichenor, M. Merenhole.

South of the Border

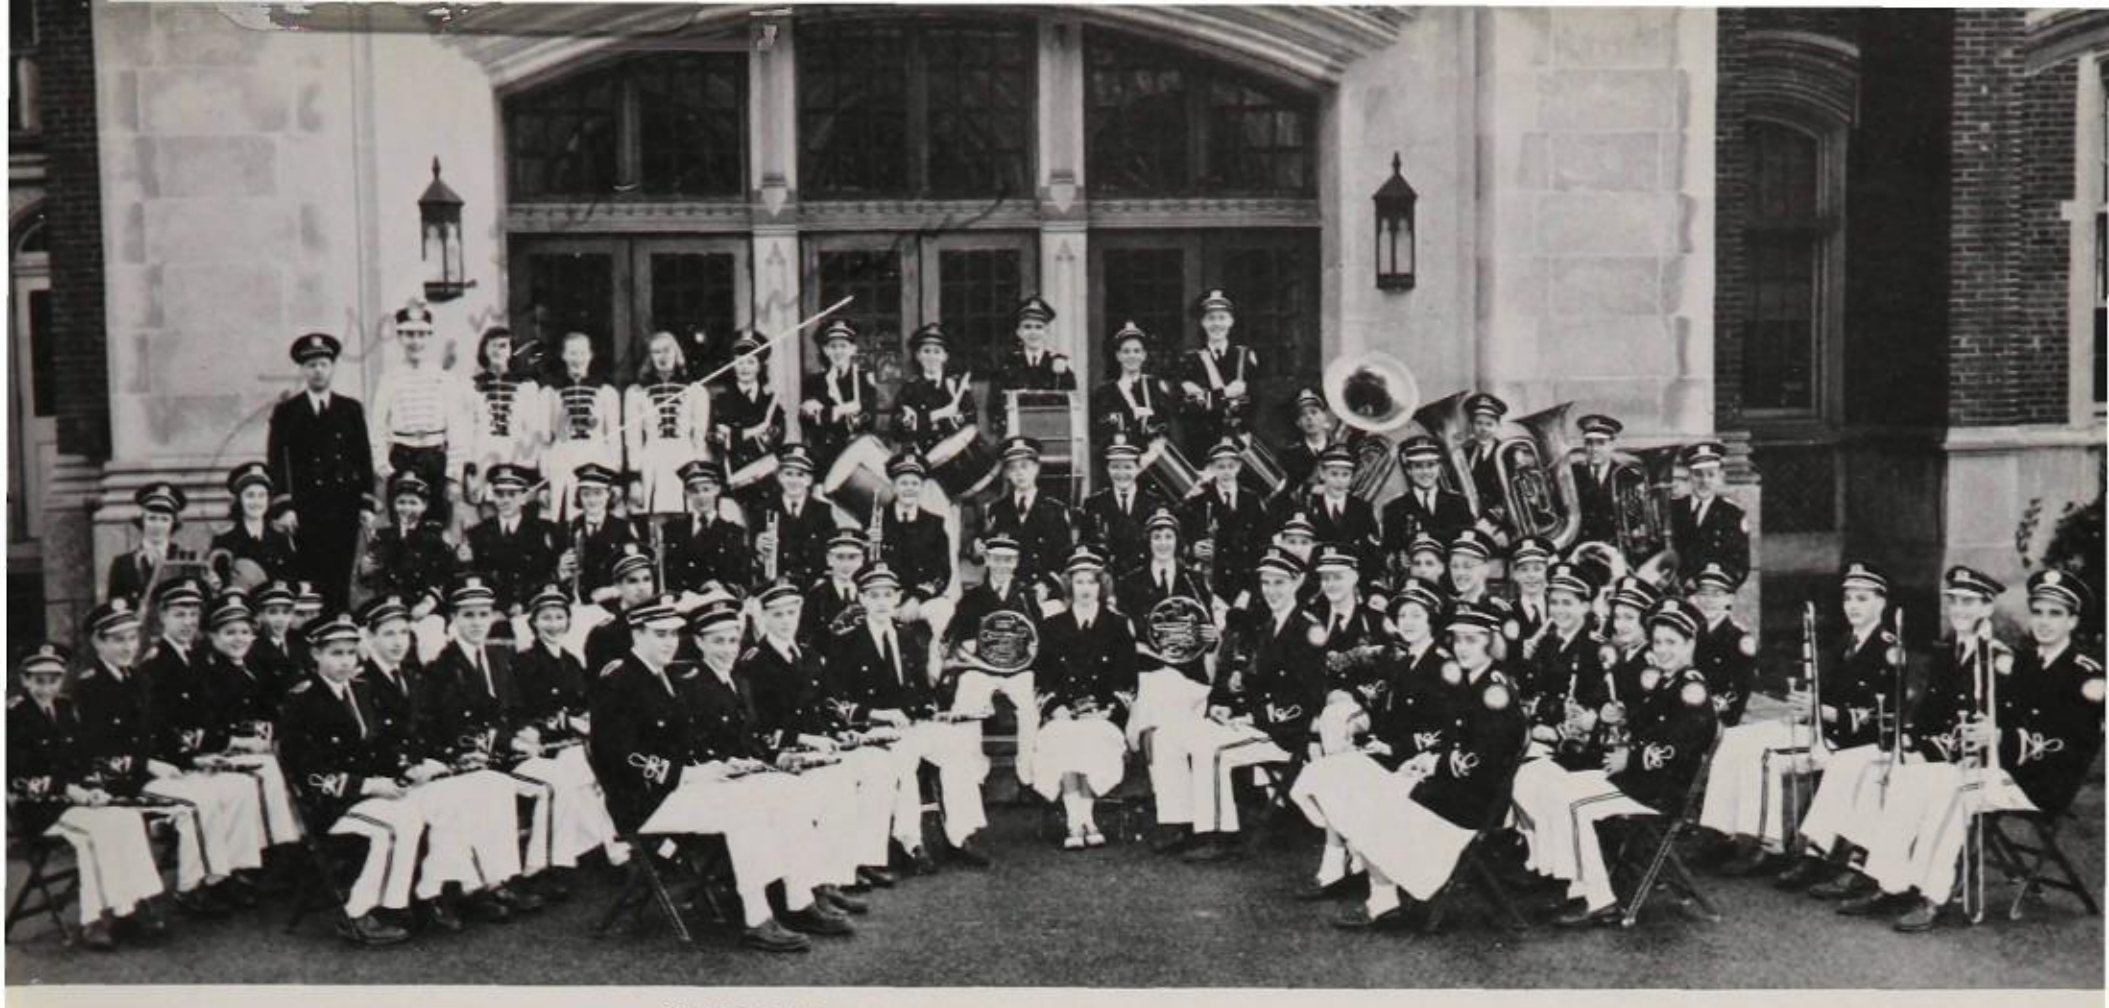
"WHAT'S the Spanish for 'Red Raiders beat Bronxville'?" This and many similar questions arose, as El Presidente Kleeman and his staff completed the club's major project, a newspaper entirely "en Español." Then, for relaxation, Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Muñoz, co-advisers, accompanied the members into "Nueva York" to see the José Greco Ballet Company and planned a party later in the year. Altogether, the Spanish Club put their increasing knowledge to a more practical use than ever before.

An American Paris

THE French Club really enforced its rules of order this year, for the door was barred to latecomers after 3:15. However, officers Don and Charlotte kept us "très heureux" inside with charades, movies, and skits. Mr. Reid and Miss Glendenning were more than patient with our treatment of the language, for continually our "Fractured French" supplied great amusement.

FRENCH CLUB

First row: M. C. Towe, A. Easton, L. Cohen, S. Berger, C. Gates, S. Kahn, D. Kahn, M. Small, K. Freie, A. Buchman. Second row: Mr. Reid, Adviser; R. Lawson, C. Barron, Secretary; D. Mead, President; C. Duryea, Vice-President; A. Flint, N. Salter, Miss Glendenning, Adviser. Third row: A. Robinson, P. Florence, E. Weil, J. Geisman, M. Emery, M. Hammond, D. Kilgore, C. Van Zelm, B. Logcher, C. Schmitt, N. Collister, M. Buschen, A. Maxcy, E. McDonald, W. Leithead. Fourth row: E. Pickard, M. Donovan, Y. Sandri, N. Hancock, H. Rusk, M. Crames, J. James, F. de Vallée, J. Rollins, S. Miller, C. Follis, R. Currie, C. Schiff. Hermits: L. Shiller, A. Smith, B. Young, P. Arons, B. Barclay, D. Austin, S. Lowenthal, V. Spohr, M. L. Adams, B. Coleman, J. Goodson, G. Hirshberg, K. Kursell, E. Robertson.



SENIOR BAND

First row: R. Nobmann, J. Eidson, J. Citron, R. Browne, J. McAfee, J. Conlan, M. Chorlian, M. Feld. Second row: R. Kingsbury, E. Kriegsman, J. Kingsbury, Vice-President; A. Fehskens, P. Chontow, J. Shera, J. Freie, L. Valenstein, S. Bliss, G. Dexter, F. Reyberg, T. Howell, P. Brooks, T. Putman. Third row: P. Himmelman, P. Riesenkonig, J. Marden, F. Farnham, M. Laughlin, R. Banker, W. Cleveland, D. Briggs, I. Sutherland, L. Hanson, L. Elliott, J. Cleveland. Fourth row: L. Pauff, J. Rapp, J. Harrison, G. Citron, V. Carson, D. Harris, R. Hall, M. Harvey, T. Hertel, J. Perkins, W. Kuhn, R. Ford, W. Bourke, President. Fifth row: Mr. Briggs, Director; E. Sholz, D. Clapper, J. Firth, Secretary; C. Midyette, A. Kouwenhoven, H. Lienau, D. Leavitt, W. Smeltzer, F. Brown, W. Beard, R. Smith, W. Sutherland, J. White, F. Reichert. Hermits: D. Cohen, R. Sholz.

Strike Up the Band

"LET the drums go bang and the cymbals clang." As the band marched down the field in many new formations, we saw veteran fire-twirler Eddie once again blazing the way with Cindy, Joan, and Donna prancing along behind. In winter they mounted the "tower" steps to start work on the Christmas assembly, with Billy taking over as student director and president. They came down only long enough to present their rendition of an old favorite, "The Night Before Christmas," plus the traditional carols. We'll always remember Len C. with his trombone and Bill with his "golden" trumpet. Mr. Briggs and Bill, with the other officers, Jim and Joan, might well have been proud of their accomplishment, a band which we thought the grandest in the land.

Make Mine Music

Senior Orchestra

"IF that's the lost chord, we don't want to find it." One might have heard this typical remark at a rehearsal of either the "Messiah," operettas, or orchestra concert. However, the excellent final performances always ended on a "high note." For the first time, the group boasted every instrument needed for full orchestration. Particularly outstanding were Dennie, Barbara M., Karel, Eddie, and of course President Ned, who helped Mr. Dezort in making this one of the finest groups ever.

A Capella Chorus

THE melodious notes from "the tower" on Wednesday and Fridays this year were due to A Capella Chorus, the group that so perfectly completed the Ceremony of Carols at Christmas and supplied so many soloists for the "Messiah," as well as leads for the operetta. With Joan as President, Mr. Lawson's "two-year-old" again played an outstanding role.

Combined Choruses

NO one could dispute the fact that this year the boys' and girls' choruses achieved an even better quality in their accomplishments. Although occasionally early morning voices left much to be desired, this wasn't all-important, for Mr. Lawson marked his large group "on attitude only." The bleachers became the scene of rehearsals, where three sharp taps of the baton meant either, "DON'T throw the music" or "That's exactly what I mean over there," and attendance-takers, Rosalie and George, desperately tried to locate people. However, dispelling our fears, the "Messiah" was a tribute to Mr. Lawson's many hours of hard work. In addition, the reception for the next performance, a program of popular music, was justly overwhelming. Meanwhile, Mr. Lawson, aided by presidents, Gail and Eddie, planned the operetta to which the cast lent their able talents. Again, as twice before, the choruses showed the outstanding achievements of which they were capable.

JUNIOR G. O.

First row: W. Weisberger, Treasurer; T. Hertel, Vice-President; J. Carswell, President; M. J. Baird, Secretary. Second row: M. Braxton; M. McCabe, M. Baldwin, S. Collins, R. Heater, D. Isaacs, J. Van Leuven. Third row: L. Bullard, S. Gordon, M. Braxton,, E. Roys, S. Richie, J. Rivchin. Fourth row: J. Hirtz, J. J. Dunn, G. O'Brien, J. Klineberg, B. MacIntyre, R. Marshall. Fifth row: Mr. Holden, Adviser; C. Howell, H. McEldowney, R. Averill, W. Drysdale, J. Kates, S. Spencer, T. Marx, J. Freie, L. Kahn. Hermit: J. Levy.

Foundation for Democracy

AS the new year began, the Junior G. O. found a new room opened to them. Inside they discovered their newly elected president, John; vice-president, Tom; secretary, Mary Jane; and adviser, Mr. Holden, ready to take up the year's activities. Once again the question of the Snack Bar arose and then, too, the bicycle problem. All the while committee-heads, Tom, Howard, Marshall, Joyce, Gail and Jamie-Jo, kept the ball rolling towards an unusually successful finale.

Press'd for Time

BESIDES the piles of copy and pots of paste, one was apt to find bits of peanut butter sandwiches and half-eaten apples, reminiscent of those extended "afternoon" production staff meetings. Previous to these sessions was the last minute search for tardy articles, which the frantic editors, Dave, John, and Sue, led by chief-worrier, Betsy Flint, and prodded by Mr. Painter, finally wrote themselves. The result—a little-bit-bigger and a lot-better Scrivener for the Junior High.

SCRIVENER

We Point with Pride

THE busy little beavers brushing past in the halls carrying their lunch to meetings, or sometimes important looking documents elsewhere, were none other than members of Aristoi, the Junior Honor Society. Howard McEldowney headed the numerous activities with John Freie as his able fill-in, Betsy as note-taker, and Mr. Fogg as the guiding hand in the noontime study hall. Providing office messengers and being on hand in the deans' offices kept these "topnotchers" bustling and hustling importantly about.

Drama in the Making

WITH Mr. Flaccus's list of "do's" and "don't's" coming from personal experience, the Junior Dramatic Club put on an ambitious set of productions. The presentation of "Drums of Oude," with Richard and Betsy as leads, merited a Woman's Club audience. Just as challenging was "What a Life!" which took Peter White through the old Henry Aldrich routine. Throughout, Gail, Nancy, and Peter saw the club over a rocky road to a well-deserved success.

ALTHOUGH not McNamara's men, the Junior Band, led by Mr. Briggs, performed admirably. The "fighting fifty," with assemblies and the Memorial Day parade as incentives, certainly put themselves to the test. Although they gave a Christmas party of solos and food, the rest of the year was just plain work!

THE year had hardly begun when the annual Red Cross drive deprived us of our loose change. FOOTBALL

SCARSDALE'S athletic prowess reached its height this fall when Coach David Buchanan's football machine rolled over six opponents to maintain the brilliant record of three consecutive undefeated seasons. Led by returning lettermen Cardinale, Baldwin, Bourke, Marshall, and Degnan, the Raiders were able to present a powerful combination of inside and outside running, along with a fine passing attack. This versatility proved the Raiders' greatest asset in making the 1951 campaign a perfect one.

In the opener at Peekskill, the Raiders, led by four touchdowns by Cardinale, scored one of the most decisive wins in Scarsdale history by routing the Red Devils by a 52-0 score.

Rye, playing at home, gave the Raiders a tough time for the first half. Once the Scarsdale line bottled up the Garnets' all-county fullback Nick Marcopoulas, the Maroon backfield took over to win the game by 12 points.

Eastchester gave Scarsdale its biggest scare, but Malovany's recovery of an Eastchester fumble set up the one score, which was bulled over by Whitehair.

Brewster, although coming to Scarsdale with a 21 game winning streak, proved a poor match for the strong Raider team. Led by Cardinale and Degnan, the Raiders easily romped to a 48-13 win.

The last traditional Bronxville game, with its morning downpour and dense fog, was one that few will forget. Neither elements nor a stubborn but outclassed Bronxville eleven could stop a great Scarsdale team. Cardinale ran over two touchdowns on 38 and 45-yard romps; Al passed for two more in finishing a sensational high school career.

Teamwork, spirit, and aggressiveness characterized a squad that carried on the tradition of excellently coached Scarsdale High School football teams.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

THE 1951 Freshman All-Star team completed a fine season with Coach Charles Christy at the helm once again. The All-Stars got off to a good start with the noble efforts of Captain-Quarterback D. Rankin and C. Winegar, 12-7 on October 18. The lone loss came the following week when Scarsdale lost to Mamaroneck 19-7. Traditional rival, Edgemont, was the All-Stars' last victim in a 7-6 thriller to end the season on November 8.

HOCKEY

"STICKS down, and drive, girls!" was the familiar echo heard on South Field as the hockey squad dribbled and drove through weeks of practice. Miss Isenberg's patience was well rewarded, for at the Greenwich Play Day the team took first place in a rules contest. Ann C. won a position on the Stuyvesant Schoolgirl first team, with Joan S. and Ginny on the reserves.

On a typical November afternoon, shivering spectators cheered the girls on to coveted victories over Bronxville. The descending darkness obscured the ball during much of the varsity game, but while Diane and Dudie swam through the backfield, Ann T. supported by Rosemary and Audie managed to sneak through the only goal. Denise drove the ball through the posts for a second victory, and Bronxville ended a scoreless day with a 0-0 tie in the third game.

Even a rough Pelham field couldn't daunt the team's driving spirit; although the J. V. lost 4-3, the varsity backed by Ellie, Elsa, and Babs, wound up a perfect season with a 1-0 victory.

Cheerleaders

"READY—hip, hip, let's go!" With many an aching back and creaking knee, the cheerleaders brightened the tough moments of our games with their boundless energy and ear-to-ear smiles. Captains Diane and Ginny encountered the added difficulty of maneuvering the girls into straight (?) lines in front of the swarming bleachers and in the crowded gyms.

G. A. A.

INSTEAD of the usual apples and tuna fish, toast and jelly accompanied G. A. A. meetings. Because of the change in lunch shifts, meetings had to be held mornings before school. However, regardless of early hours and sleepy girls, Suie and Miss Isenberg steered the long-awaited athletic handbook to completion and the sports programs on to successful seasons.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

SPEED, defense, and ball control were the keynotes of Scarsdale's 1952 basketball team. Under the guidance of a new coach, young P. Oram Smith, the Raiders managed to end the season with a very creditable record.

The majority of the members of the varsity unit were taken mostly from 1951's outstanding junior varsity team. Everett and Whyte, both six-footers, supplied much of the rebounding strength, along with Lang, who was one of last year's starters for the Bronxville five. Al Baldwin, the only returning letterman, turned in a fine performance both on offense and defense playing at the guard position, while Bill Greenawalt supplied the scoring punch. Trimble, Murphy, Spence, Johnson, and Smith were others who saw a great deal of action.

The Raiders' 17 game schedule was one that was full of surprises and let-downs for the Scarsdale fans. Certainly, no one will forget the game with Katonah on January 8 when, in the first contest of the season, Coach Smith's "sluffing defense" throttled the Indians' 6'5" center, Bill Runge. Everett was the big gun as he poured in 16 points while guarding Runge, but a pair of vital lay-ups by Trimble in the hectic last three minutes of the game put the game on ice and clinched the Raider victory.

Against Fieldston Scarsdale managed to overcome a 30-30 halftime score to capture their second game of the season, as Lang paced the scoring with 20 points. Playing hosts to Darien High School in their first home game, the Raiders went down to defeat after taking the game into an overtime period.

The Concordia game, in which the Raiders had some very tough luck trying to score a few points to overcome the home team's lead, was lost by a 50-30 score. Although Greenawalt kept Scarsdale in the game in the first half with a total of 12 points, the Raiders just could not cluster their baskets enough to annoy the Concordia five.

If the game with Katonah goes down in the books as one of the best examples of Raider teamwork in the '52 season, then certainly Bill Greenawalt's 32 points in the Pelham game was probably the most outstanding individual play this year. Greenawalt put on a masterly exhibition of shooting as he poured in 21 points in the second half, with an amazing shooting average to lead the home forces to a great victory. This scoring spree placed Greenawalt as the highest game scorer in Scarsdale history, surpassing Jim Hogan's 1951 mark of 31 points.

The best game of January found Scarsdale entertaining a winless Pleasantville five, who after a stubborn fight succumbed to a 54-47 decision. The next opponent for the Red Raiders was an undefeated Bronxville team. In this game, one filled with excitement and keen rivalry, a fine Bronco team edged the home team by two points after being behind for the major part of the game.

With a lot of their mistakes behind them, the Scarsdale High basketball team, fortified with great spirit and an outstanding knowledge of fundamentals, pointed toward a successful season mainly because of the great work of Coach Oram Smith.

Rifle Team

THIS year the Scarsdale Rifle Team had a tremendously successful season. Champions of Westchester County Rifle League, the squad was also fourth ranking team (out of 126 schools competing) in all non-military secondary schools in the November National Rifle Association postal matches. With Currie as captain, the team of James, Kraepelien, Hosking, de Lima, Hammarstrom, Lawder, and Marr shot a total of 492 points out of a possible 500. Under the direction of Mr. Houghton, Miss Skinner, and Mr. Hartmann, the team has come far this year.

Girls' Basketball

REBOUNDS and passes were the main topics of conversation, as weeks of gruelling tryouts narrowed down the list of hopeful heavers to a squad rivaled only by Mr. Smith's. Although Pelham and Tuckahoe offered tough competition, Miss Skinner was assured of top performance in veteran forwards Heather, Rickie, Audie, and Ginny, not to mention Ellen and star tenth-graders, Ellie B. and Mary. With Rosemary, Dudie, Elsa, and Maida intercepting passes, opposing teams found scoring difficult; thus with the traditional spirit, Scarsdale whipped through another season.

Cross-Country

THIS fall Scarsdale's cross-country team achieved the best record in its history. Captained by Dave, they defeated Saunders, North Tarrytown, Bronxville, Pelham, and gained third place in the Sectionals. Sophomore Barry S. set a new course record of 12:28, in helping to defeat a strong Pelham team which Scarsdale had been unable to beat in the last five years. The crowning achievement came in the Westchester County Sectional Meet where Stallman and Hagemeyer took first and second places. All but one of 1951's lettermen are returning next year.

Track

COACHED by Mr. Wohlers, Scarsdale's fleet-footed track team showed its heels to all comers. Running events were ably handled by 1951 veterans: Robin and Dewey in the mile, Rusty in the 880, Tim in the 440, Ed as top timber-topper, and Don and Karel in the sprints. These last four also contributed to the 880 relay team's success. Rounding out the veteran squad were high jumpers, Bill and Chuck; pole-vaulter, Al, and broad jumper, Skip, who brought more glory to a great track team.

Wrestling

SCARSDALE'S 1952 wrestling team faced a very tough winter schedule, but attained another commendable record. The ten-man squad, bolstered greatly by returning lettermen Swan, Levy, Kleeman, Garretson, and Halsey, first met Baldwin, which many considered the second best team in the country. The Raider matmen lost a hard-fought match, 44-0, but performed much better against Manhasset, winning, 22-19. Encounters with newcomer New Rochelle and with Trinity and Poly Prep rounded out the season.

Tennis

SPRING arrived and found Mr. Pratt busily coaching boys' tennis, with veterans, Bill and Peter, helping Bob, Jack, Joel K., and Pete S. wield varsity racquets. On the opposite side of the net Susie and Joan, plus newcomers, Ellie and Martha, were being coached by Miss Skinner. Boasting swift serves and effective net play, 1952's squads proved tough competition, and, when the last sets were ended, Scarsdale had "netted" a fine record.

Girls' Softball

UNDER the watchful eye of Coach McLees, an outstanding girls' softball team emerged this spring. Equipped with such assets as the pitching ability of Barb R. and Heather, Ellen's frequent home runs, and Audie's dependable catching, the squad established a noteworthy record. Babs, Elsa, Marie, Ginny, and Carrie also displayed their batting and fielding talents. As the team swung into action, Susie K. and her officials busily recorded the season's fatal plays.

Archery

THE records show that our little friend in three-cornered pants isn't the only one who can hit the target on the nose. Coached by "Cupid" Isenberg, Adrienne H., Phyllis B., Joan F., Ellie B., Marie M., and all the others proved their skill in the National Tournament, in which Eva has distinguished herself for the last three years as an expert marksman. Opportunities for both individual and team achievement attracted many archery enthusiasts this season.

BASEBALL

WINTER'S icy gusts had hardly disappeared when Scarsdale anticipated its major spring sport—baseball. Coach Schmidt was faced with the problem of moulding a team minus last year's sluggers, who had accounted for the most runs in Scarsdale's history. The only veterans of the infield, Gordon and Joe D., shared first base duties. Robin and Bill filled the remaining infield positions, while Bob and Pete supplied excellent backstopping. Upholding Scarsdale's fine tradition, Buzzie and Don shared pitching honors. The outfield was ably taken care of by two more veterans, Monte and Joe C.; Dick and Roger also roamed the wide open spaces. Despite a difficult schedule, the team completed a successful season, exhibiting speed on the basepaths and air-tight defense.

HORTON'S ICE CREAM

Since 1851 . . . distinguished for its fine flavors, smooth texture and pure ingredients.

The familiar red, white and blue Horton's trade-mark means fine ice cream today as it did yesterday—as it will tomorrow and tomorrow.

REFLECTIONS

of you and your classmates upon your school life achieve immortality in a carefully planned and executed yearbook.

From the arid desert of Arizona, and the sultry green island of Puerto Rico, to the snow-blanketed slopes of Northern New England, we have traveled, happy and proud to have been an instrument in the translating into print, the humor pathos, excitement, and sentiment found in the campus life of over seventy-five colleges and preparatory schools.

As former members of yearbook staffs in our school days, we bring into our professional duties a real understanding of the many problems confronting each yearbook editor.

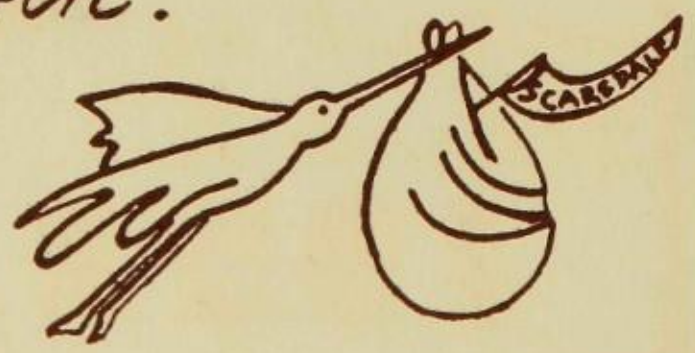
By and by people came.

Once upon a time Caleb Heathcote's land the manor of SCARSDALE was wild and uninhibited.

Battles were fought and when the dust cleared, a new town was born.



A village developed.

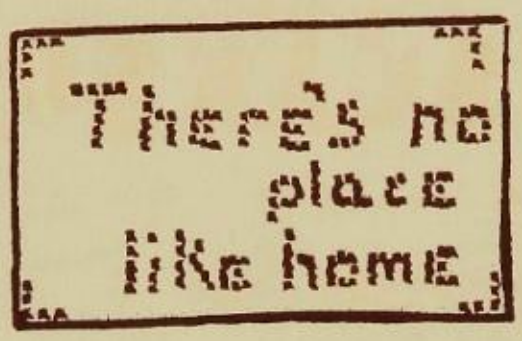
As the country grew, Scarsdale grew. The need

arose for education.

Schools were built. Today Scoredale's students are outstanding

the school forms the center of most teen-age activities. Saturdays are filled with recreation.

Yet some favorite spots are found in bordering communities. However "mid pleasures and palaces



And so before it grows any larger we leave this book as a portrait of Scarsdale

1952.
